Non-Common App Schools

- Some colleges and universities have opted not to accept the Common Application.

- Instead, they have created their own individual applications that, in most cases, are web-based and can be found via the school's undergraduate admissions website.

- Just because a school does not accept the Common App does not mean that they do not accept the transmission of important documents, like letters of recommendation and academic transcripts, through Naviance.

- When a non-Common App school allows us to submit documents through Naviance, it is called Direct to Institution. A Direct to Institution school is design by this symbol.

The Coalition for College

- "The Coalition was developed to improve the college application process for all students as they search for and apply to their perfect college. The platform provides a single, centralized toolkit for students to organize, build, and refine their applications to numerous institutions."

- Free online resources/tools are available on their website: http://www.coalitionforcollegeaccess.org/

- Over 150 institutions have joined.

- Students can choose whichever application they feel more comfortable with- no preference given.

- When a student applies via the Coalition, they should select that they are applying "Directly to the Institution" when adding a college to their "Colleges I'm Applying To" list Naviance Student. Messaging on this page will help students know to check this box.

Which college are you applying to?

Clemson University ✕

Colleges already in your application list would be unavailable for selection.

App type

Regular Decision ⌄

I'll submit my application

Direct to the institution ⌄

☐ I've submitted my application

Add Application